Shipping with Direct Link

Overview

Direct Link, a division of PostNord, is an international distribution and logistics company that ships packages throughout Europe, as well as registered mail to more than 200 countries worldwide. They have offices in China, the US, Australia, the UK, and more. You can integrate Direct Link with Shipbridge.

Integrate Direct Link into Shipbridge

Shipbridge can print shipping labels that meet Direct Link's label requirements and format. Direct Link will give you a range of tracking numbers that must be entered into Shipbridge. There are separate ranges for Registered Mail and for Parcel Shipment.

Shipbridge will then print out labels, beginning with the first tracking number. You can print out labels until the tracking number range is depleted. Another range will then need to be entered in Shipbridge to continue printing labels.
You may need to work out an arrangement with Direct Link to pick up your shipments, or you may need to ship it to a distribution center. Please contact Direct Link directly for more information.
